

ARTS & CULTURE

On May 14, 2016, The Contemporary Austin will host the third annual Art Dinner, an evening celebrating the recently formed Betty and Edward Marcus Sculpture Park at Laguna Gloria and art on the grounds. Following the award of a generous and transformative gift by the Edward and Betty Marcus Foundation, The Contemporary has launched an ambitious plan to transform the grounds of Laguna Gloria into an art-in-nature destination that will attract patrons from across the country.

The Art Dinner will draw a select group of approximately 250 guests, including The Contemporary Austin's Board of Trustees and gallerists, art collectors, and international artists. The event will encompass much of the fourteen-acre estate, including the historic Driscoll Villa.

This year marks the 100-year anniversary of Clara Driscoll's 1916 Mediterranean-style villa. The Art Dinner will commemorate this momentous occasion with a garden party bringing together local and national guests to celebrate the notable additions to the Betty and Edward Marcus Sculpture Park.
