NOW ON VIEW!

Guadalupe Maravilla: Mariposa Relámpago

This large-scale sound-healing sculpture was born out of the artist's life history. Originally commissioned by ICA Boston, Maravilla purchased a yellow school bus in El Salvador with the intention of re-tracing his migration route from El Salvador to the U.S.

Maravilla's powerful installation invites visitors to explore notions of displacement and recovery, demonstrating the power of contemporary art to confront trauma and nurture healing.
